The department shall provide local community stakeholders and victim advocacy organizations with copies of all domestic violence curricula, protocols, and policies for review and feedback.

b. Training

All departmental personnel, both sworn and non sworn, shall receive comprehensive mandatory instruction upon implementation of this policy and on a continuing basis.

B. Incident Response Protocols

a. Communications Officers or call taker shall do the following:

- 1. Dispatch a minimum of two officers to a domestic violence call whenever possible.
- 2. Assign a priority response to all domestic violence calls, whether or not the assailant is known to be on the premises, including those calls that involve or appear to involve a police officer of any department.

3. Immediately notify and dispatch a supervisor to a domestic violence call for service that involves or appears to involve a police officer, regardless of the involved officer's jurisdiction.
 4. Preserve documentation of the facts and circumstances of each call, including 911 tapes, for use in potential administrative and criminal investigations, as requested by the investigating officers or supervisors.
- b. Maintain current contact information of local domestic violence advocacy organizations for responding officers to provide to victims.
 - c. Attempt to elicit any and all information from the caller that may help the responding and investigating officers assess the situation including the following:
 1. Immediate safety of the caller and others at the scene
 2. Nature of the incident (verbal or physical) nature of injuries, and whether violence is ongoing.
 3. Weapons that are involved, or present, if applicable, and the type of weapon when appropriate
 4. Hazards to responders, including animals present
 5. Whether the suspect is under the influence of alcohol or drugs
 6. Suspect's description and presence or absence, and, if absent, direction and mode of travel
 7. Other people involved or witnesses at the scene, including children
 8. Number of times the department has been called to this location due to the suspect's behavior
 9. Existence of protections orders
 10. Outstanding warrants
 11. Suspect's date of birth or social security number and any previous history of domestic violence
 - d. Inform the caller of an approximate time of the officer's arrival
 - e. Not cancel the original call for service even if a subsequent request to cancel the original call is received. Advise the responding officers of the second call and instruct them to continue to respond, investigate, and assess the situation to ensure that all parties are safe.
 - f. Keep the caller on the telephone if the caller is a victim or witness to a domestic violence incident in progress in order to relay ongoing information provided by the caller to the responding officers and remain aware of victim's safety.
 - g. Have ready access to the department records that indicate whether the parties involved in the incident have been involved previously in domestic violence incidents, whether previous incidents involved a weapon, and whether there is in effect a protection order involving the parties, and relay any relevant information to the responding officers.

- h. Make the safety of the domestic violence victim a primary concern. Address threats of violence, whether immediate or remote, by working with the victim to focus on ways to enhance safety, such as waiting for the officers at another location or leaving the location if the suspect returns.

C. Initial Law Enforcement Officer Response

- a. When dispatched to a domestic violence call, responding officers should do the following:
 1. Approach the scene of a domestic dispute with a high degree of caution
 2. Obtain all available information from the dispatcher and notify the dispatcher on arrival
 3. Avoid the use of emergency lights and sirens when it is not necessary so as not to alert the perpetrator to the officers' approach
 4. Be alert for persons leaving the scene and for the deployment of weapons from doors, windows and vehicles
 5. Use recording devices to capture statements made by victims, suspects and witnesses (S.C. Code Ann. 17-30-30)
- b. Upon arrival at the scene, responding officers should do the following:
 1. Avoid parking the police vehicle in front of the residence or other site of the disturbance when possible
 2. Identify themselves as law enforcement officers, explain their presence, and request entry in the event the incident is at a private residence, as necessary, and when exigent circumstances do not exist.
 3. Make contact with all residents of the house, all potential witnesses, victims, and suspects. In accordance with S.C. Code Ann 16-25-70 (c) In effecting a warrantless arrest a law enforcement officer may enter the residence of the person to be arrested in order to effect the arrest where the officer has probable cause to believe that the action is reasonably necessary to prevent physical harm or danger to a family or household member. In making this decision, officers may take into account everything they personally observe, all physical evidence, and all things learned from witnesses or other persons supplying information. In evaluating the information, officers should take into account the credibility of the persons supplying the information and whether there is a reasonable basis for believing the information.
 4. Upon gaining entry, responding officers should do the following:
 - Identify and secure potential weapons
 - Separate the parties

- Restrain or remove the suspect, if necessary
 - Assess for injuries, administer first aid, and request medical services as necessary
 - Identify all people and witnesses on the premises
 - Separate occupants and witnesses from the victim and the accused keeping them out of sight and hearing range of one another.
 - Obtain a comprehensive account of events from all parties.
5. During the on-scene investigation, using a coordinated approach, responding officers should do the following:
- Ask the parties about injuries including those that may be concealed by clothing or otherwise not readily apparent or visible, including strangulation. An officer of the same sex as the victim may be needed as further visual investigation continues and photographs are taken to document the injury.
 - Photographs are essential. They bring the trauma of the incident into the courtroom. Take photographs of everything: the crime scene, blood, injuries of suspect and victim, and anything else that shows the scope of the incident.
 - After speaking with the victim and making proactive assessment of the victim's physical condition, determine whether emergency medical services (EMS) should be summoned to the scene. Officers should always summon (EMS) if the victim requests medical attention. A medical examination may also provide important corroborative evidence.
 - Inform the victim in advance of actions to be taken and obtain written consent to search the scene. If both parties are on scene and both have standing over the residence and one party is objecting to the search, absent exigent circumstance, a warrant should be obtained.
 - If the suspect has been arrested prior to the interview, give Miranda warnings before questioning. If the suspect has fled the area gather information to his possible whereabouts.
 - Address the victim's safety and privacy by interviewing the victim in the area apart from the suspect and witnesses. Obtain information about previous incidents, including frequency and severity.
 - Ask the victim about the existence of protection orders.
 - Collect, preserve, and document all physical evidence to support the prosecution, including evidence substantiating the victim's injuries, evidentiary articles that substantiate the attack (weapons, torn clothing, phone cords...) and evidence recording the crime scene. Ensure that color photographs are taken of visible injuries on the victim as well as the visible injuries on the suspect. Make arrangements to take follow-up photographs of the victim's injuries 24, 48, and 72 hours later in the event the injuries and bruising become more visible and pronounced.

- Interview all witnesses fully and as soon as possible. If witnesses provide information about incidents, document the information to establish a pattern.
- Interview children at the scene in a manner appropriate to their age. Document any signs of trauma and apparent wounds or healing of wounds on the children and take appropriate action, in accordance with S.C. Code Ann 63-7-620 (2008) which states in part "a law enforcement officer may take emergency protective custody without the consent of the child's parents, guardians, or others..."
- Elicit information and document all actual and suspected incidents of abuse including physical and sexual abuse, elder or child abuse, and animal cruelty.
- Offer to contact a local advocate to provide support to the victim as available and provide current contact information for local domestic violence victim advocacy organizations.
- Remain at the scene as long as there is danger to the safety of the person or until the person is able to leave the dwelling. The officer shall transport the person if no reasonable transportation is available.

6. The Responding or investigating officer shall not do the following:

- Make any statement that would discourage a victim from reporting an act of domestic violence
- Threaten, suggest, or otherwise indicate the possible arrest of all parties to discourage future requests for intervention by law enforcement personnel

7. Supervisor involvement

- Field supervisors shall be responsible for monitoring any domestic violence calls dispatched to the officers under their direct supervision or within their area of responsibility.
- Whenever possible, the supervisor should respond to the scene for the purpose of providing additional safety, monitoring the situation and being available to offer advice to the victim.
- In situations where the supervisors is unable to respond he or she should perform follow-up to ensure departmental policy has been followed.

8. Incidents involving a police officer as the suspect

- Upon arrival on the scene of a domestic violence call or an incident involving a law officer, the primary patrol unit shall immediately notify dispatch and request a supervisor of higher rank than the involved officer report to the scene, regardless of the involved officer's jurisdiction.

- Responding officers shall be aware of the heightened risk that a suspect who is a police officer will likely possess firearms, other weapons, physical combat training, or all three.
- Refer to Officer-Involved domestic violence policy

9. Incident documentation

- Officers shall complete a departmental domestic violence supplemental report form following response to or investigation of an allegation of domestic violence, whether or not an arrest is made.

10. The arrest decision

- A Law Enforcement Officer must arrest, with or without a warrant, a person at the person's place of residence or elsewhere if physical manifestations of injury to the alleged victim are present and the officer has probable cause to believe that the person is committing or has freshly committed a misdemeanor or felony under the provisions of Section 16-25-20 (A) or (D) or 16-25-65 even if the act did not take place in the presence of the officer.
- Officers shall arrest for violation of protection orders, when applicable.
- If a law enforcement officer receives conflicting complaints of domestic or family violence from two or more household members involving an incident of domestic violence, the officer must evaluate each complaint separately to determine who was the primary aggressor. If the officer determines that one person was the primary physical aggressor, the officer must not arrest the other person accused of having committed domestic or family violence. In determining whether a person is the primary aggressor, the officer must consider the following factors and any other factors he considers relevant: S.C. Code Ann. 16-25-70 (D)
 - (1) Prior complaints of domestic or family violence
 - (2) The relative severity of the injuries inflicted on each person taking into account injuries alleged which may not be easily visible at the time of the investigation
 - (3) The likelihood of future injury to each person
 - (4) Whether one of the persons acted in self-defense
 - (5) Household member accounts regarding the history of domestic violence
 - (6) The comparative size of the parties
 - (7) The primary aggressor refers to the most significant aggressor, not the one who struck the first blow. Take into consideration self-defense elements when both parties have assaulted each other.

- A law enforcement officer must not threaten, suggest, or otherwise indicate the possible arrest of all parties to discourage a party's request for intervention by law enforcement.
- A law enforcement officer who arrests two or more persons for a crime involving domestic or family violence must include the grounds for arresting both parties in the written incident report, and must include a statement in the report that the officer attempted to determine which party was the primary aggressor and was unable to make a determination based upon the evidence available at the time of the arrest.
- When an arrest cannot be made due to lack of probable cause that a crime has been committed the officer will do the following:
 - (1) Explain to the victim why an arrest is not being made
 - (2) Advise the victim of his or her rights and explain the procedures for filing a criminal complaint
 - (3) Encourage the victim to contact the local domestic violence service provider for information regarding counseling and other services

11. Arrest procedures

- The arresting officers should take the accused into custody as soon as it is determined that a warrantless arrest is appropriate. If the suspect has fled the scene, the officers should attempt to locate and apprehend the suspect as well as consider advising the dispatch of the suspect's description so a lookout can be placed for the suspect. Should the suspect not be located, the officers should initiate procedures to obtain a warrant for the suspect as soon as practical.
- Domestic disturbances involving prominent citizens, public officials, or police officers may present particular difficulties for the responding officers. In such circumstances, the responding officers should request that a supervisor respond to the scene and shall ensure that this incident be handled the same as any other domestic violence incident.
- The officer shall not put a victim in the position of stating whether or not he or she wants the suspect to be arrested.
 - Inform the arrestee that the arrest is your decision, not the victim's
